What He Most Wished For. John Fiske, the American historian, was an ardent lover of music and himself no mean musician. Furthermore he was extremely corpulent and felt the hot weather painfully. He was once delivering a course of lectures at a summer school in a small city of the middle west. The heat was terrific and adjoining the house where the lecturer stayed was a church where an ill-matched but zealous "quartet" practiced and performed during all hours of the torrid afternoons and evenings. One evening, seeing the famous man sit for a time unoccupied and apparently oppressed by this combined affliction, the young daughter of his hostess attempted to divert him by offering him a new novel, then just becoming popular. "I think 'The Choir Invisible is perfectly splendid, Mr. Fiske," said she, "Would'n you like to read it?" The historian put the book aside. "My dear young lady," said he, "the only choir in the world in which I could feel any interest at this moment would be the choir in-

NO REST NIGHT OR DAY.

With Irritating Skin Humor-Hall Began to Fall Out-Wonderful Resuit from Cuticura Romedies.

"About the latter part of July my whole body began to itch. I did not take much notice of it at first, but it began to get worse all the time, and then I began to get uneasy and tried all kinds of baths and other remedies that were recommended for skin humors; but I became worse all the time. My hair began to fall out and my scalp itched all the time. Especially at night, just as soon as I would get in bed and get warm, my whole body would begin to itch and my finger nails would keep it irritated, and it was not long before I could not rest night or day. A friend asked me to try the Cuticura Remedies, and I did, and the first application helped me wonderfully. For about four weeks I would take a hot bath every night and then apply the Cuticura Ointment to my whole body; and I kept getting better, and by the time I used four boxes of Cuticura I was entirely cured, and my hair stopped falling out.  NEWS FROM MISSOURL

*++++++++++++++++++++ Good Roads Help Everybody.

Missouri needs good roads so that the farmer can more easily get to town-that will help the town, says the Columbia Herald. Missouri needs good roads so that the farmer can quickly get back home—that will help the farmer and the farm. Good roads mean higher prices for the land, which is good; and higher education for the children, which is better. suffered everything from kidney trou- They insure a market at all times for the products of the farm and a congregation every Sunday for the preacher of the gospei. Good roads express the neighborliness of a community. No man can be happy without neighbors-just far enough away. It takes a beast or a god to be happy alone—and the gods dwell no longer on the prosaic earth. Missouri roads are handleapping her prosperity. We can put a Chinese wall about the state and grow within the borders thus inclosed all that is neccessary for man to wear or eat or drink. With Missouri blessed so bountifully in material things we build a Chinese wall of mud between every acre of farm land and the nearest town.

Taxes Need Adjusting. Walter Williams believes that we pay too little taxes in Missouri and further these taxes are paid on the wrong things: "We need adjustment of the revenue system which will se cure more revenue and from sources now untouched. Pennsylvania raises $24,000,000 annually for sick purposes with never a cent from real estate, from live stock, from any form of the farmers' wealth. And Missouri raises less than $4,000,000, of which the farmer pays too large proportional share. Under a new constitution Mis souri could have a revenue system which will make the corporate wealth -existing because of special privileges from the state-pay adequately for the support of the state government. Let's give Missouri a new dress and a pair of shoes and provide for her pin money from the public service corporations."

Fight Like Flends in Japan, and No. Hold is Barred.

The wrestlers arranged themselve in two sides, each led by a captain. They sat cross-legged around the platform in the dirt, all but the two chosen to begin, who advanced into the center with the umpire. They squatted upon their feet and bowed to each other slowly and solemnly. Politeness thus being fulfilled, they stood up again and bent over opposite one another like two gamecocks, watching intently for a chance to seize an advantage. During the preliminaries the audience was tense with expectation. Then suddenly the women sprang, hissing at each other furious ly and gnashing their teeth, at first by simulating ferocity to spur themselves up to greater excitement, but, after a few clutches, in deadly feminine earnest, the umpire meanwhile buzzing to them as they swayed round the narrow ring.

Any and all holds seemed fair means to the end of pushing a combatant over the edge. Sometimes with a clean throw one woman landed her opponent sprawling in the midst of her friends. This was the signal for the umpire to begin: 'Hitotsu, futatsu, mitsu, yotsu, itsutsu (one, two, three, four, five)," in a series of irregular and disconnected squeaks; and before he ceased counting another wrestler from the losing side jumped up to meet the champion who stood panting hissing and spitting like a boiling kettle in the center of the arena. This time there were no perliminaries. A wild rush, and like two furles or two beasts the women were struggling again. Some affected quick clutches some locked their adversaries in their arms and stood stock still for a full five minutes. Some picked up their opponents at once and threw them bodily over the ring, while others rolled over with them. This latter course threatened to cause almost a disaster on several occasions. The poor weak umpire (he seemed almost a midget beside them) attempted to assert his prerogatives, to declare the result, as was his custom after every bout, in a high sing-song voice, and with a raising of his fan to his forehead, an excellent gesture of finality,

The captain of each side sprang up into the ring, followed by several of her dissatisfied companions. They clutched at his garments; they pummeled him roughly; soon partisans in the audience joined the lively discussion. Usually the umpire's discretion got the better of his conscience, and he obligingly announced what the majority wanted. Then only was he left in peace; the trate ladies returned gurgling to their places, and the wrestling recommenced. The act was completed with the vanguishing of one side, after which, bowing low, the per-

ALASKAN CABLE IS BUSY.

Line to Be Duplexed and 200 Mere Miles Added.

Few people who have not been over the ground have any conception of the wonderful development of Alaskan interests and trade. For instance, the commercial receipts from the Alaskan cable and telegraph lines for the month of July amounted to $24,000. The rapid increase in the demands upon the system will be met by the government by duplexing the cable. The cable ship Burnside, which is to install the duplexing apparatus at the Alaskan end of the cable, will carry about 200 miles of new cable for the extension of the service to Ketchikan. This extension will effected by tapping the lines from Sitka to Juneau at Cape Fanshaw. From that point a branch line will be extended down the Wrangel, then Hadley on Prince of Wales island, and then to Ketchikan, which is only 60 miles from Fort Simpson, the English town which is to be the terminus of the Grand Trunk and Pacific railroads. It is believed that this additional 200 miles of cable will largely increase the cable receipts, as it taps a country rich in mines, fishery and canning industries and greatly in need of daily communication with the United States. It is expected that this new line will be completed by November 1.

One Hundred Thousand Workers Each Give a Penny to Ruskin College.

The British trade unloss had not in their origin any direct concern with education, says the Fortnightly view. But it is a fact of no ordinary significance that some of the leading unions should be taking very great interest in the higher education of the workman.

For the last three years some 100,-000 workingmen, members of the Amalgamated Society of Engineers, have made three levies of one penny each to help on the work of Ruskin college at Oxford. This levy produces over £300 a year, and by means of it six engineers are maintained for a year's course of study at the college.

Smaller but substantial sums have been contributed to the same institution by the London Society of Compositors, by the Lanarkshire Miners' County Union, by the Amaigamated Association of Beamers, Twisters and Drawers, by the Derbyshire miners and the Durham miners, while a large number of other societies appear among the donors and subscribers.

Hall's Catarrh Gure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraterative. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarra Care is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. New Use for Gramophone.

Drilling native Malay levies by word of command emitted from a gramophone is the latest instance of modern ingenuity. Even the Zulu can now hear his own native songs and war dances from records made by a London company, who have sold more than 20 machines to swarthy warrior chiefs in South Africa. Folk-songs of the Pygmies were recently procured, and a machine has been dispatched to Lapland for the purpose, if possible, of procuring Eskimo folk-songs.

New York's Great Ocean Trade. New York is the second great seaport of the world. In 1903 over $9,-000,000 tons of imports and 8,700,000 tons of exports were cleared through New York harbor. London is the greatest seaport, exceeding New York in imports, though not by exports. Antwerp and Hamburg are third and Defiance Starch, being free from all injurious chemicals, is the only one which is safe to use on fine fabrics. Its great strength as a stiffener makes half the usual quantity of Starch necessary, with the result of perfect finish, equal to that when the goods were new.

Sheer white goods, in fact, any fine wash goods when new, owe much of their attractiveness to the way they are laundered, this being done in a manner to enhance their textile beauty. Home laundering would be equally satisfactory if proper attention was given to starching, the first essential being good Starch, which has sufficient strength to stiffen, without thickening the goods. Try Defiance Starch and you will be pleasantly surprised at the improved appearance of your work.

Chandler's Joke on Conkling. Roscoe Conkling was a capital boxer and quite proud of his skill. One evening after considerable banter he induced Senator Chandler to "put on the gloves" with him. He played with Chandler for a few rounds, much to the discomfiture of the downeaster. The latter bided his time and some time later quietly brought a professional pugilist to dinner where Conkling was a guest. In the course of the evening "Mr. Smith" was induced to engage in a boxing bout with Mr. Conkling. The professional danced around the senator, landing when and where he wished, playing with him as he would with a punching bag. The elegant New York senator was dazed. overwhelmed, humiliated, crushed. When he surrendered and called enough, as he did at last. Senator Chandler smiled blandly and presented the pugilist in his true colors.

NERVOUS DEBILITY

Nervous debility is the common name for what the doctors term neurasthenia. It is characterized by mental depression, fits of the "blues," or melancholy, loss of energy and spirits. The patient's eyes become dull, the pink fades from the cheeks, the memory becomes defective so that it is difficult to recall dates and names at will. Some of these symptoms only may be present or all of them. The remedy lies in toning up the nervous system and there is no medicine better adapted for this purpose than Dr. Williams' Pink Pills.

Mrs. Jane J. Davies, of No. 314 Warren street, Scranton, Pa., says: "Some years ago I became greatly reduced in health and strength and my nervous system became so debilitated that I felt wretched.
